In Slavenhuis 39

Vier jong bruin studente deel 'n woonstel op Stellenbosch wat jare gelede slawe gehuisves het. Soos hulle deur hul eerste jaar op universiteit probeer kom, bots hulle dikwels met mekaar. Met 'n blik op die toekoms – hier waar hulle 'n nuwe lewe vir hulself probeer bou – moet hulle die verlede probeer versoen met hedendaagse kwessies soos manlikheid, bendes, geloof, rassisme, kultuur, homoseksualiteit en doodeenvoudige menslikheid. Want wat beteken bruinwees nou eintlik?

Using his trademark stylistic lighting and dramatic wardrobe, Nataniël, along with Charl du Plessis (piano), Juan Oosthuizen (guitar), Werner Spies (bass) and Peter Auret (drums), will perform music from the endless catalogue of blues and jazz evergreens, pop classics and original songs.

ArtsAbility Festival

Now in its fifth year, the Unmute ArtsAbility Festival presents world-class, collaborative, artistic works by artists with mixed abilities. This multi-disciplinary arts festival uses dance, live music, poetry, visual art, film, fashion design, art installations, theatre and site-specific performances as a medium to challenge people's state of mental-misconception on disability and encourages people to break barriers and inspire an integrated/inclusive society.

This year's theme, SHIFT, aims to shift people's perception of what performance is believed to look like, and where they should be performed. Performances will be held at Artscape Theatre, as well as in some of the townships the artists hail from. Venues in the townships will be transformed into performance spaces, giving people access and freedom to express and showcase their arts in their own spaces.

Presented by Unmute Dance Theatre
